journal		I am from a house where my dogs play around. Jumping on me and saying hi. Licking my tired face to a happy face. They sleep on my bed every night saying good night. At morning they'll say bye when I go to school. I am from a beautiful stage where people dance, sing, perform, and do acrobatics for the audience. I enjoy living here. I cheered for many kinds of performers. Someday I'll get up there to perform when I grow up. I am from a street where cars go by. I wish I found my family. Alone in the streets as I cry for attention. I need food, water, shelter, and family. The streets stink with the smell of rotten trash everywhere on side walks. I hope I'll live forever.	Other journal		My brothers and I are different because they are mean and I'm nice. I'm not blind, but my brothers are. I never even want to be with them. But until one day Meakel and me went to the store I stole a snapback so I could look cool. But all it did was make Meakel run. I ran but I got caught. He punch the store keeper in the face and told me he'll watch over me.	Types of stressors/trauma in life
